certificate

for: SOTAX

SOTAX made a donation in your name retaining the habitats of threatened animals and plants.

Dolphins belong to the strongly endangered animal species. The sensitive sea mammals suffer from the substantial water pollution, from poisonous substances in the sea, oil and gas production in their food reasons and collisions with ships. And dolphins in the trawl nets of the industrial high sea-fisher are caught again and again. There it expects a painful dead.

For years the WWF uses itself for dolphins and its habitat. We establish sea protected areas and promote careful fishing methods.

This dolphin certificate is an important contribution for the protection of the seas and their inhabitants.

Thank you!
