SOTAX opens new Corporate Headquarters

June 2015: SOTAX Group's corporate headquarters in Switzerland have moved to a brand new facility. The new premises are another milestone in the company's 40+ year history. The site has been constructed in Aesch just outside Basel, Switzerland. In order to maintain the company's close relationship with the pharmaceutical industry, SOTAX stands by its commitment to the Basel region, one of Europe's largest pharma hubs.

The facility has been built to meet the increasing demand for SOTAX products and services and to allow for process improvements and optimization. "With the construction of the new corporate headquarters in Aesch, the company adds a key pillar in the SOTAX Group's long-term growth strategy. The new site will benefit not only us, but also our clients, partners and suppliers," says Rolf Benz, President and CEO of the SOTAX Group, "our colleagues will enjoy a modern and attractive working environment that motivates, promotes innovation, and enables us to provide the familiar SOTAX technical perfection, satisfying the most stringent quality demands".

Constructed in accordance with the latest environmental and energy-efficiency standards, the new headquarters house various corporate functional groups as well as a state-of-the-art production facility. Modern meeting and training facilities as well as demo labs complete the newly built site.

To mark this milestone, the company has now celebrated the inauguration with more than 250 invited guests including clients, partners and suppliers.

The new address of the SOTAX Corporate Headquarters in Switzerland is:

SOTAX AG
Nordring 1
4147 Aesch (BL)
Switzerland

The previous site at Binningerstrasse 106 in 4123 Allschwil, Switzerland has been closed; the address is no longer available.
